Green

Green Sencha

Harvested early in spring, Green Sencha features dark green leaves that are lovingly steamed and flourish when infused, making it the most popular green tea in Japan, cherished for its timeless appeal.

Sencha, which means 'steamed' and is also referred to as 'steeped tea', undergoes a traditional Japanese processing method where the leaves are steamed, rolled into needle-like shapes, and dried.

Steaming occurs approximately 12-20 hours after picking, lasting about 15-20 seconds, helping the tea retain much of its original colour. The leaves are then rolled to release their natural flavours.

Taste: A light-green cup with a subtle, fresh fragrance. Balanced with hints of rice and a smooth finish.

Hunan Green

Crafted from only the most fragrant and fresh tea leaves, Hunan Green embodies the mountainous landscape of Hunan.

It exudes a delicate freshness, accompanied by lingering sweet notes and a subtle taste reminiscent of freshly cut grass. An enjoyable treat for any time of day.

Taste: A light green cup with the subtle fragrance of fresh tea leaves, combined with a sweet and gentle aftertaste.
